

Review Group 12 – HW3

Your implementation is very nice, the code includes the Replay Buffer, the DQ network and an appropriate training algorithm. The code also works without issue. Your plot is very easy to read and immediately shows the progress over the episodes, it is also very good that you trained for 500 episodes, to really show the possible progress. The code could use more comments and maybe even some additional documentation to make it more readable and understandable, but other than that very good job.
